HIS MOTHER SANE.

Habeas Corpus Proceedings Brought To-Day by Benjamin Herbert.

CLAIMS SHE IS WRONGFULLY CONFINED AT ST. VINCENT'S ASYLUM.

The Son Alleges That His Father, Lewis Herbert, Had Her Placed There—An Interview With the Petitioner—Claims His Mother Asked His To Bring the Action—Alleges Motive.

An application for a writ of habeas corpus was presented to the court this morning by Benjamin Herbert, in his application, states that his mother, Elizabeth Herbert, is now confined and restrained against her will in St. Vincent's Insane Asylum. He says that she was put in the asylum by her husband, the petitioner's father, Lewis Herbert, on the plea that it was a hospital for the sick and not necessarily for the insane. Young Herbert claims that his mother is not nowand never was insane, but cannot tell why she is confined in the asylum, because he has no legal right to see her. He has given him no information on the subject. His legal attorneys for young Herbert were seen at their office and asked about the suit. "This is a case," said Mr. Ward, "that calls for condemnation of personal conduct, and I have not mentioned this woman so long without any notice of the law or order of court. We will have to wait and see what the court does with it." Benjamin Herbert's statements and remarks are facts of a sensational nature, and the public is naturally interested in the case. The court will be asked to make an order for a writ of habeas corpus to release her.

Herbert, fearing that his father would be compelled to appear in court, has engaged a lawyer to represent him.

HAYDEN'S—"Paul Karvan."Two hundred newsboys on the down town streets are selling the "Daily Post-Dispatch" for two cents. Do not be deceived into spending over twice that amount for a mass of stuff you do not need. Only 2¢ need be spent for the day's news. When you buy "8 for a nickel" you are likely to get old papers piled off on you.THE Mayor's backbone was in a state of crystallization for a little while yesterday.CHARLIE JOY'S great victory in the Eleventh District was, it seems, won on a foul.TO CALL it "withdrawal" is merely a pleasant way of saying: a confession of guilt.ANANIAS had no income tax to pay, yet he could not keep from lying. It isn't a matter of taxes."JIM" BUTLER'S withdrawal was a clever attempt to avoid the collapse of his defenses. But no one was fooled by the dodge.THE antiquated and piratical protection theory must go. Even Mr. Carnegie perceives that from the turrets of Cluney Mast.IT is safe to assume that Don Quixote of Cleveland is more responsible than Sancho Panza Willis for the latest blunder in Hawaii.SUBSCRIBE to the POST-DISPATCH Lake Poor Fund. You will not only help the poor but contribute to a much-needed public work.SHOULD a Republican administration appear in '97 it is not impossible that a vacancy may occur which will put our Judge Walbridge on the Supreme Bench.CITY ATTORNEY BUTLER was treated to the surprise yesterday of flouting a local court where neither the "continuance" nor the "nolle pross." racket could be worked.If the Mayor, in his capacity of tribunal, can make places for a goodly number of ward workers in these hard times, must he not be looked upon as a public and party benefactor in one?MR. DANA, who has stood by Mr. Carnegie so ably, will be paralyzed by that good man's recent utterances. Perhaps it is best never to say that a man is wise and good until he is dead.THE cause of education will be greatly advanced by the placing of Republican janitors in the public schools. The young ideals should shoot toward ward politics as early as possible if our free institutions are to be preserved."BURRONS" answer to Wilson had horns and teeth," says the "Westliche Post."
From the wild, untruthful assertions of which it is made up it might be inferred that Mr. Burrows himself had several "horns" at the time of its delivery.

SUPERFLUOUS MEN.

Honest to steal and ashamed to beg, William Conrad and Harry Goss put themselves beyond the reach of human sorrow by committing suicide.Free citizens of a country which for 100 years has boasted of its unlimited resources and capacity to support an indefinite population, they found themselves unable to command the merest necessities of life. Intelligent, honest, willing to work, they were denied a part of God's bounty freely bestowed upon all mankind and quietly withdrew from a world in which they seemed to have no part. They were superfluous men, and when they discovered the fact betook themselves to the other world, where it is to be hoped a human soul is not an impertinence.They were superfluous men; superfluous in a land whose resources are not more than tapped, in a land which can support 1,000,000 in comfort but which does not feed 65,000,000.It is an amazing paradox, not to be believed did not the time give it proof. Have not the American people intelligence enough to pick up the necessities of life in a country "flying with comfort?"A REPUBLICAN Senator is quoted as saying: "I would give me a millionof United States marines and the killing of a couple of American colonists supporting the Provisional Government by our marines." Surely the voters of the United States made no mistake in 1892.UNDER the law foreign exhibitors were expected to stand by and see their ware burn in the World's Fair fire. Common sense, however, did interpose in time to save a few of the exhibits. The maxim that the law is the perfection of human reason does not apply to American customs law.THE outcome of the Butler case gives cause for rejoicing to all decent citizens.The Mayor's firmness in refusing to be misled by the patent attempts of Butler's attorneys to avoid a spectacular failure to meet his charges and to gain some chance of a technical vindication of their client, was commendable. He did right in peremptorily disposing of the case and relieving the city of the disgrace of Butlerism in the office of City Attorney. It was a good riddance of an unsavory nuisance.
It is hoped that the Mayor's choice of a temporary successor of Butler will start a thorough reform in the place so long disgraced by "Jim" Butler.

THE FIRST TRANSGRESSION.

In an editorial article criticising President Cleveland's Hawaiian policy the local Republican organ says: "The people of Hawaii have the same right to manage their own political interests in their own way that we have to manage ours."This is gratifying evidence of Republican awakening to the righteousness and the wisdom of the policy of non-interferences. It is a pity the party was not converted to this view before the Harrison Administration hatched the conspiracy which caused all of our Hawaiian troubles. If Harrison, Blaine, Foster and Stevens had not committed the outrage of interfering in the affairs of the Hawaiian people the Cleveland Administration would not now be plunged about in the sea of blunders.The policy of Cleveland and Gresham is open to censure. It has been severely criticized by Democrats. It is a foolish policy. But let it be remembered in their favor that it was prompted by an honest desire to right the wrongs of the Harrison Administration. No criticism of Cleveland can justify Harrison. If he had kept hands off there would not have been a Hawaiian question.

MANACED TO A BRUTE.

Every St. Louisian who refreshes himself on beer must have been alarmed at the story of the gentleman who met an old friend, just before Christmas, and became intoxicated with him. This gentleman, as he was "proceeding quietly home, somewhat drunk, but orderly," was arrested.Gov. MCKINLEY gladly placed his hand on the Bible when he was sworn in the other day, because he knew it to be tariff taxed.

CITY NEWS.

"CRAWFORD'S is the spot" for bargains and busy, busy days! No place else like it, which is without any doubt. Every department, every table, every avenue, and every nook and corner are fairly brimming with bargains, and such bargains!—none of your namby-pamby ones which cannot be seen with the naked eye, but bargains which the greenest and most obtuse can spot in a second and "freeze onto"! Oh, we tell you "Crawford's is the spot!"

Mercantile Library Report.

The Mercantile Library Association held its forty-eighth annual meeting last night. The report of the Board of Directors shows the income for 1883 to have been $5,628.46 and the expenditures $52,108.24. The bonded debt is $2,000 and the floating $1,323.62. The Librarian was deceased during the year, $7,486.23. The Librarian's report showed a membership of 6,800. The new year 3,000 new books were added, making in total 10,800 books. A new catalogue has been nearly completed, the work on which was begun in 1881.

Third Street Changes.

With the new year many changes and improvements have been made on Third street, and the Directory man will find many additions and corrections necessary to perfect the next edition. Several printing firms have spread out into larger quarters, indicating increasing business; Sanders Engraving Co. have rearranged their engraving shops, almost doubling their capacity, and from the general appearance of the street you would hardly think that hard times had struck that part of the city.

CARDBOARD, Ill., Jan. 10.—Prospectors are sinking a shaft for gold in Union County, about two miles east of Springfield, on the M. & O. road. Some of the precious metal has been found there, but whether the ore will be rich enough to pay for working it remains to be seen.

FR. CORRIGAN DEAD.

Rendered Famous by His Dispute With Bishop Wigger.

New York, Jan. 10.—Patrick Corrigan, pastor of the Church of Our Lady of Grace in Hoboken, died at the rectory on Willow avenue at 8:45 p. m. yesterday from the effects of bronchial pneumonia. Fr. Corrigan was 50 years old and was born in Ardmore, County Limerick, Ireland. He came to this country when 18 years of age, his father engaging in the furniture business.

At that time Fr. Kelly, a brother of Eugene Kelly, was pastor of old St. Peter's Church in Hoboken, and Fr. Corrigan was a boy of 17, and was displayed much play and brightness. It was under Fr. Kelly's care that he entered the priesthood.

Fr. Corrigan had the reputation of being very aggressive and sometimes quarrelsome.

His first real fight was with Bishop Wigger and he was beaten. He then fought very vigorously a complete change in the manner of appointing bishops. Bishop Wigger was a man of great tact, and when he and then the fight began, Fr. Corrigan was afterwards vindicated by the Third Plenary Council of Baltimore, which adopted his cause. Upon the arrival of the Plenary Council between Fr. Corrigan and Bishop Wigger were now strained, and about a month ago they had a final interview.

Fr. Corrigan was everywhere known as zealous Blaine men, and worked to send a Blaine delegation to Minneapolis from CLARKSON'S BEE.

The Iowan's Friends Are Grooming Him for the Senatorial Race.

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 10.—If the Iowa Legislature is unable to choose a Senator from the list of candidates now before it, and is compelled to go to a special election, a dark horse for the nomination is their boy, who represents Col. J. S. Clarkson. Indeed, it is reported that the former Chairman of the National Republican Committee will soon be openly announced as a candidate.

If Clarkson is elected it must be by the anti-Gettysburg men, as Clarkson's friends and the men he represents have all along been against the Congressman from the First District. Gear and the Clarksons have been against him, and the difference between them grew very pronounced early in 1892. He was Assistant Secretary of State under the Harrison administration, and along with other federal office-holders was exerting his influence for renomination of the President. Col. Clarkson, as everybody knows, was zealous Blaine men, and worked to send a Blaine delegation to Minneapolis from the time he was elected a candidate.

SELLING PLAYERS.

Effort Being Made to Strengthen the St. Louis Team.

PRESIDENT VON DER AHE WILLING TO SELL HIS CAPABLE MEN.

Prospects That the Browns Will Be Weakly—A Test Case to Be Made in Florida of Glove Contests—Local Rowing Club Elections—Sporting News in General.

President Von der Ahe's statement yesterday that the Browns' team is not for sale, and that he only offered him to the New York club for $7,000 in cash because he knew the price would not be accepted, is not satisfactory to the local fans. The master of Sportmen's Park has been claiming, since last season closed, that he would surely have a first-class team this year, but up to date has made no effort to fulfill the promise. Instead of offering to sell players like Breitstein, he should be out endeavoring to buy some like the Southpaw pitcher.

The Browns are woefully weak, perhaps the weakest team in the league, and instead of trying to strengthen the club, Von der Ahe wants to dispose of what few competent players he has. If Breitstein is not for sale the St. Louis President would have answered New York to that effect instead of setting a price on the pitcher. The St. Louis management is the only one in the League which is not trying to improve its club, and it is something to be noted that the team will wear a sadly deserted appearance when games are played here next summer.

IN THE TURF WORLD.

Fort Worth's Relationship to Tulla Blackburn and Tammany.

Very few of the local turfites were aware of the fact that Fort Worth, now racing at East St. Louis, is an own brother of Tulla Blackburn and a half-brother of the great Tammany. Fort Worth is a young, well-bred colt by Luke Blackburn out of Tulsa, and belongs to the well-known Eastern Turfman. Tulla Blackburn campaigned in Hankins and Johnson's colors two years ago, and was the crack handicap performer on the Western circuit. Marcus Daly's great 5-year-old Tammany is by Iroquois out of Tulsa.

The programme for the eighth week of racing at Madison was issued this morning. Some of the best horses in the West are racing at Madison, notably Charlie Thorpe, Hugh Penny, J. Penny, Paty Freeman, L. Soden and Cratty.

H. Eugene Leigh uses part of his advertising in a turf publication to get back at his critics, speaking of Reporter, "The King of Sulkers." Gene says, "The King will keep racing and try to get a few of his owner's best mares, as he wishes to sustain his reputation for running his horses ingeniously. He will be racing in the performances of Clifford, Lazarro, and D. L. Belle last season. Out of fifty starts they were twenty times, once unplaced and left at once."

"Artin, for twenty-two years, was owned by E. J. Baldwin, aged 65 years. He founded a cattle farm, and was a market and stations, which of the stables famous all over the ring."

THE RING.

Jack Dempsey, ex-champion middleweight of the world, and one of the greatest London prize ring fighters that ever stepped into the ring, this country, is reasonably certain Champion Jim Corbett will defeat Charley Mitchell.

In a recent New York interview Jack unburdened himself of a few notions about boxers. In his talk he did not care to particularly refer to the Corbett and Mitchell bout, but the following question was put to him:

"If two men, equally clever in all respects as far as boxing is concerned, and one was taller than the other and not as hard a hit as the lesser man, were to fight, who do you think would win?"

"Not that I know of," replied the famous boxer. "Of course you mean Mitchell and Corbett. Well, I would fancy the tall man, because he would land often than the other fellow, and would be more difficult to hit. The number of his blows would be greater to an extent that would outbalance the smaller or shorter man. A big or tall good man is always a difficult man to defeat."

"Well, what do you think about Corbett and Mitchell?"

"To be frank, I think Corbett a cleverer as a boxer than Mitchell. I would like to see the better man win. If Mitchell is better than Corbett I trust he will win. Corbett is a very good boxer, but he is not as clever as he thinks he is."

Typographical Union's Action. Typographical Union, at its meeting last Sunday, did not adopt resolutions to let all other labor organizations alone, but simply withdrew its delegates to the Trades and Labor Union, pending the settlement of the dispute.

Neither did they vote to extend $3 to single and $5 to married men out of their wages, but abstained from voting for the purpose of affording necessary relief to such members in need who had been connected with the union for our month prior to Jan. 1.

TEST CASE TO BE MADE.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 10.—George Sher, the well-known sporting man, has matched two local pugilists for a purse of $300, under articles of agreement exactly like those of the Duval Athletic Club in the Corbett-Mitchell fight. This contest will be played in the opera-house here next Saturday night, and it will offer a good precedent for the guidance of the Duval Club. If the Governor orders the Sheriff to stop it, the arrest of the principals will make a stir in the courts, which, it is claimed, the Governor will not do, as his club is likely to see. If there is no interference, the club will put the bill with the Chief Executive in a hole."

Our new arena is going forward rapidly, and the structure will be completed by the 15th.

The annual election of the Modoc Rowing took place last Saturday night, and Sam Stutz was elected President; Alex. Melchior, Vice-President; William G. Arthur Eversen, who captained the club so successfully last season, was unanimously elected captain for the present year on state occasions during the present year.

For the Very Valuable Advice to Businessmen.

An epidemic of the grip is certain to be general throughout America in a very short time. There are cases in New York City, as well as in other cities of the land.

Dr. C. C. Clegg, of the New York Board of Health says that the grip will manifest its presence generally in the very near future and that it is already here in this country.

"I think we will have a grip epidemic soon and there are indications that it will be a serious one. It is not difficult to create a scare. I would warn people to beware of it and to use all the precautions possible. The grip is a disease of carelessness in habits and irregular hours render the system too weak to stand so severe a disease."

There is but one thing for any man, woman or child to do when the grip symptom appears and that is to counteract it at once. If you feel tired, have a full headache, a bad taste in the mouth, are feverish, have no ambition or appetite, you must desire to sleep. The grip at once takes the grip patient.

WALK FOR LIFE

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

F. Castlemann Took One In the Laclede Hotel Hall.

Found Dying in His Room From Morphine Poisoning.

CLAIMS WORRY OVER A ROBBERY LED HIM TO TAKE AN OVERDOSE.

Dr. Say Called In and He and a Police-man Walked Castlemann Up and Down for Nearly Six Hours—Castlemann's Loss Through a Sneak Thief—Manager for Sutherland Sisters.

Mr. L. Castlemann, the husband of Isabella Sutherland, and manager of the Seven Sutherland Sisters, came within an act of meeting his death in room No. 100, at the Laclede Hotel, on Monday night. It is not positively known that Mr. Castlemann attempted self destruction as the attending physician claims that he is ignorant of what the man's intentions were and Castlemann claims that he took the drug to relieve excruciating pains.

On Monday night about midnight the guests on the second floor of the Laclede Hotel were aroused by the promenading of a man up and down the hallways by a police officer and a physician, who proved to be Dr. W. J. Say of 8th Pine street. An inquiry being made by the guests revealed the fact that the sick man was F. Castlemann. It was reported that he had attempted suicide. An inquiry at the hotel the afternoon regarding the case resulted in the claim of the manager that no such an occurrence had transpired in the hotel. A call was made on Dr. Say at his office on Pine street who gave the following facts:

Dr. SAY'S STATEMENT.

Said he: "When I was called to the Laclede I found Mr. Castlemann on the brink of his grave. Unless he had received medical attention just when he did he would have been a dead man to day. I worked with him from midnight until after 8 o'clock Tuesday morning. I thought he was dying but he had taken ten grains of morphine—enough to have killed two men. I worked with him until he was out of danger and have not called him since."

Mr. CASTLEMANN'S ACCOUNT.

Mr. Castlemann was called upon at his place of business this afternoon and asked to give his version of the affair.

"I did not attempt to kill myself," replied he. "I had been married on Sunday morning about a certain matter, and was in a great hurry. What was that certain matter?"

"Well, a thief entered our room shortly after the fireman had left and made away with my pocket-book. My gold watch, diamond charms and some little jewelry belonging to my wife. He turned a chair over in my room which awoke me. When I awoke I saw him leaving the room and he asked him what he wanted. He replied that it was 7 o'clock and time to get up. I got up and found my jewelry missing, which fact I immediately reported to the police, but have never been able to find the thief."

The theft worried me, and I took a drink or two and on Monday was taken to a doctor for an injection of somnium. I took my wife into the dining-room at the Laclede on Monday evening. I was suffering from a headache, but went to my room and took the morphine, hoping that it would relieve me. I did not know that he had taken so much. If I had not been here for Dr. Say I presume the dose would have killed me. I remain here in the hope that he will find me in condition to attend to work."

SEVERAL SMALL SALES.

Reports Made by Real Estate Agents of Property Sold.

While there were no large deals in real estate to-day, several small sales were reported.

Archie F. Haskins and John Gether, commissioners in partition, sold at public auction yesterday, No. 710 North Sixteenth street, with 20x108 feet of ground. The property was purchased by Samuel Kendall for $4,000.

M. R. Craven reported the following sales: Collected a small sum on the sale of $2,200, from the Clifton Heights Realty Company, and Mr. W. H. Haskins, who will improve the site with a dwelling.

Famous avenue—North side, at Clifton Heights, a six-story residence, 10x120 feet of ground, for $3,000, from L. Hallack to Mrs. M. E. Robbins.

L. V. Carter & Co. reported the sale of 20x76 feet of ground on the northeast corner of Sarah street and Evans avenue, for $2,000 from Joseph N. Verdin to Wm. McKnight.

J. C. H. Haskins reported the sale of 120x120 feet of ground on the south side of Huger street between Cardinal and Compton avenues for $2,000, from L. Hallack to Charles Siegel, who will improve the site with dwellings.

The Nickel-Bitter Realty and Financial Co. reported the sale of house No. 936 Brooklyn street, a two-story brick structure, with 80x76 feet of ground, for $3,400 from Louis E. Waggoner to Mary Lironhouse.

Mining Injunction Suit.

The case of the Rico-Aspen Consolidated Mining Co. against the Enterprise Mining Co. was filed to-day in the United States Court of Appeals on a writ of error from the United States Circuit Court of Colorado. Both parties are small corporations in Colorado, and the Circuit Court granted the prayer of the complainant, namely that the defendant be compelled to remove from the surface either the surface or the underground territory of the Vesta lead mining claim. The complainants were adjucated to the defendant the claim, and the defendant was assessed cost. From this decision the defendant appealed.

That Ink Bottle Knock Out.

FITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 10.—The story from Buffalo that John L. Sullivan had been knocked out recently by his wife was denied to-day by the ex-champion.

"Why, that's absurd," said Sullivan. "Does anybody think that he is afraid and courageous? He would be that in writing out. It's somebody that bears me enmity. I've gotten some time."

John L. Sullivan, called his wife, who corroborated him by denying the story in toto.

Gen. Shelby Wants a Place.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.—Gen. Jo Shelby arrived in the city last night. He called on the members of the congressional delegation from Western states this morning and presented his case to the Department of Justice.

He made it known that he was extremely anxious to serve his country as Marshal of Western District of Missouri. He is expected to have an interview with the President in the day.

Missouri Miners' Protest.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.—Congressman presented a very large petition to use this morning, signed by the lead of Missouri, protesting against lead placed upon the free list.

Mr. Bouteille and Mr. Tracy of New York Have a Talk.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.—Mr. Bouteille again tried to-day to have considered by the House his Hawaiian resolution, which was reported by the Naval Affairs Committee and laid on the table, but was finally overruled by the Speaker.

During the Bouteille debate Mr. Tracy of New York asked the Chair whether he would in order to call for the regular orders.

"On the White House clock has not struck this morning," interposed Mr. Bouteille.

Mr. Tracy's cheek flamed. He inquired hotly whether a member, while making a parliamentary inquiry, could be affronted, and called attention to the fact that on another occasion, a gentleman (Mr. Wilson of Massachusetts) had shouted "cuckoo."

Mr. Bouteille disclaimed any intention of insulting his colleague and Mr. Tracy took his seat, still calling upon the affronted member to have his turn to speak, adding that he would not stand this sort of treatment any longer.

Mr. Tracy then said, "I will get his face slapped."

Mr. Tracy's cheek flamed. He inquired hotly whether a member, while making a formal ruling, decided against Mr. Bouteille, and the entire debate was resumed.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.—Vice-President Stevenson was in the chair in the Senate this morning. Senator Hale of Maine reported from the Committee on Naval Affairs. The House resolution, providing for the investigation and consideration of all measures relating to the passage of the bill to prohibit an amendment providing that the inquiry shall be made by a sub-committee of the Senate instead of by a joint commission of the two bodies. The resolution as amended was referred to the Select Committee.

The referee resolution providing for an inquiry into the delay in constructing public buildings was adopted, and Senator Davis of Minnesota called for and added the Senate on the Fire resolution, declaring against the use of naval fire in Hawaii.

SPECIAL MESSAGE.

President Cleveland May Send It to Congress To-Morrow.

THEN THE COUNTRY WILL KNOW THE SITUATION IN HAWAII.

Today's Mails Will Bring Minister Willis' Written Report of Dole's Reply to the Demand for the Queen's Restoration—Marines Were Ready to Land at Honolulu.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.—The mail from San Francisco to-day is expected to bring to the State Department complete advice from Minister Willis, covering in detail his demand on the Dole Government to resign, based upon the Queen's change of heart, and the full text of the Hawaiian Provisional Government's refusal to accede to President Cleveland's request. It is said uniformly that when this report arrives the full advice will be made public, but that the dispatches already received are too meager to supply the exact information as to what has happened since the arrival in Honolulu of the Corwin on Dec. 11. This statement is decidedly at variance with the report that the cipher dispatch received at the State Department on Friday was fully 1,300 words long, requiring several hours for translation.

At all events it is probable that Mr. Cleveland will send a special message to Congress to-morrow, in connection with which the written report of Minister Willis will be appended. It is suggested, even by the President's supporters, that he cannot too quickly for the good of his party and the country as well, let all the facts in his possession before Congress.

The Administration is beginning to feel the tremendous pressure exerted not only by public men here, but by the press of the country, for full information regarding the acts of the American Minister at Honolulu. It is declared even by the Administration's stanch supporters in the House and Senate that the policy of secrecy has aroused much opposition to the Administration's plans, which would not have arisen if the public understood the time it was attempted to keep in operation. There is much criticism, especially of the orders which have required the revenue cutter Corwin to speak up and down the coast to prevent information as to the situation on the islands from being brought ashore. There is much impatience here to know exactly what has been done, not only from the public but from many prominent men of both parties in Congress as to the correctness of the charges as set forth in both hours of resolutions justifying the Administration's course. Only in a dozen public men here have the confidence of the State Department, and these are engaged in relaying the importance of the Corwin to the public, especially to the United States Minister. Many members of the House, who have made inquiries as to the truth of the charges, are requested to have the full details from Minister Willis are received.

DOVONAN.—On Tuesday, Jan. 9, at 5:15 o'clock a.m., Mrs. MARGARET DONOVAN, beloved mother of Ada T. Smyth (see Donovan).

Funeral will take place, Jan. 11, at 2 o'clock p.m., from residence, No. 1409 N. Seventh street, to St. Patrick's Church, thence to Calvary Cemetery.

New York City and Scranton (Pa.) papers please copy.

DURKIN.—On Tuesday, Jan. 9, at 4 a.m., ANNE DURKIN, at the age of 5 years and 4 months, dearly beloved daughter of Martin and Mary Durkin (see Gallagher).

Funeral will take place, 2104 College avenue, Thursday, Jan. 11, at 2 p.m. Friends and relatives specially invited to attend.

KLEINTOFF—VET A. KLEINTOFF, beloved son of Adolph Kleintoff.

Funeral Thursday, Jan. 11, at 2 p.m., from residence, Easton and Compton avenues. Funeral parlor.

RAUER—On Monday, Jan. 8, at 8 o'clock p.m., after a lingering illness, KUNIGUNDA RAUER, 60, died at her home, 1000 North 12th street.

Funeral on Thursday, Jan. 11, at 2 o'clock p.m., from residence of her son-in-law, Mr. August Graf.

This afternoon secretary Gresham was seen in his office, and he consented to answer some hurried questions addressed to him. In reply to the query, "Will you say anything on the news from Honolulu?" He said:

"I have no news from Honolulu. I expect to receive the full report of the Corwin to-morrow, and then I will have no official information before that time."

The public will be awaiting the public which will be transmitted immediately to the public which will be given on our arrival in the city, the news of which will be given to Congress. Every instruction that has been sent to Minister Willis is now in the hands of the Corwin, and the dispatches are sent to him will be put into the hands of Congress in duplicate.

"The master has then been put entirely in the hands of Congress, has it?"

"They will be transmitted immediately to Congress. I hardly think that they will be given out publicly, but the news will be given to Congress. Every instruction that has been sent to Minister Willis is now in the hands of the Corwin, and the dispatches are sent to him will be put into the hands of Congress in duplicate.

"So far as I can see, the Corwin will learn all the facts to-morrow.

THEY FEARED AN OUTBREAK.

Preparations Were Made to Land Marines From American Warships.

VICTORIA, British Columbia, Jan. 10.—Under date of Jan. 1, THE WORLD AND POST-DISPATCH correspondent at Honolulu, forwarded the following news to the New York Tribune:

After the arrival of the Corwin had thrown the people of Honolulu into a nervous condition, every one expected momentarily that an attempt would be made to restore the Queen by force of arms.

It was thought by royalists and the Provisional Government people alike that the revenue cutter had brought instructions from the Corwin to the Queen. They felt sure that their long period of waiting would not be broken by something decisive. But for five days nothing was done.

It was a fact that they were ready on the morning of the 10th to land. The Queen came to the aid of the men ready to attack the Provisional Government, but to protect the citizens in government, to put the rebels in the hands of Congress.

Capt. Cooke of the Champion the night before, it is said, had told some ladies at a party in the Corwin that the rebels were to be landed the next day and restore the Queen. On the morning of the 10th, Admiral Irwin was asked about this subsequently, when Mr. Cleveland came to him. "I had the men ready, not to attack the Provisional Government, but to protect the citizens in government, to put the rebels in the hands of Congress," he said.

Marriage of William H. Mittenberger and Miss Lillian G. Clarke at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—A wedding of unusual brilliancy will be that of Miss Lillian G. Clarke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Clarke of this city, to William H. Mittenberger, who has been known as the erry Wall of St. Louis. The marriage will be celebrated at 5 o'clock this evening at the Lexington Hotel, situated on Michigan Avenue and Twenty-second street, with a reception following the marriage from 8:30 to 10:45 this evening. The handsome reception will be lavishly decorated with ferns and lilies, the mantels and seats being banked with a profusion of Parma violets. A mandolin band, seated behind a cluster of palms, furnish the music, and sumptuous refreshments will be served by Chicago's best-known caterer.

The bride will be attended by Miss Francie G. Beeson, maid of honor, and the bride's maid will be Miss Mary and Marguerite Buchanan. Mr. John G.
